

PEACE OFFERS ACCEPTED BY BOTH NATIONS

However Italian Ac- ceptance is With Reservations

BULLETIN
Addis Ababa, March 5.—(AP)—A government communique said today an Italian plane bombarded a British ambulance camp near Quoram, on the northern front, yesterday, killing seven patients but injuring none of the personnel.

BULLETIN
Addis Ababa, March 5.—(AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie announced today his approval of the League of Nations appeal for a cessation of hostilities with Italy, with a view to opening definite peace negotiations within the framework of the league.

The King of Kings granted his approval of the appeal, issued Tuesday by the league council conciliation committee of 13, without reservation.

Rome, March 5.—(AP)—Italy will accept the League of Nations appeal for peace with Ethiopia, an excellent source said today, as a basis for discussion under certain conditions.

What the conditions would be was not disclosed exactly, but the principal one was declared to be that territory already occupied by Italy in East Africa must be considered hers, and must not form any part of the peace negotiations.

(This prediction of a conditioned Italian acceptance of the league conciliation committee's appeal for an end to hostilities, with a view to definite peace discussions within the framework of the league, followed an Addis Ababa announcement of approval of the proposal without reservations.)

Another Condition
Another Italian condition to acceptance was understood to be with reference to the league suggestion for an immediate cessation of hostilities.

Italy's attitude toward this subject was described in two points: 1. It would not be possible to halt hostilities from one day to another, as though the war were a stage drama. Thus, a decision on this point probably would be left to Marshal Pietro Badoglio, commander-in-chief of the Fascist forces in East Africa.

2. A cessation of hostilities would permit Ethiopia to carry out what Italy considers is its usual policy of procrastination and deviation during negotiations, thus destroying the effect of Italy's recent heavy blows on the northern and southern fronts.

The authority who outlined these views pointed out, however, that Italy was still studying the peace appeal, pending its final answer.

Hold Conference
While Premier Mussolini's government still studied its formal reply to the proposal, dispatched last Tuesday, under-secretary for foreign affairs Fulvio Suvich and the Austrian Prince Ernst von Starhemberg surveyed the relations of their two nations, and the European situation as it affected them, in a one-hour conference.

These conversations formed a prelude to a conference this afternoon between the Austrian Vice-Chancellor and Il Duce.

Every effort was being made by Austrians and Italians alike to lend to Von Starhemberg's visit the simple aspect of an inspection of Italy's Fascist blackshirt militia.

Before arriving in Rome, Von Starhemberg had telegraphed to Mussolini congratulations for the victories of the blackshirts in East Africa.

"Best wishes for the future of the Fascist symbol," Austria's Vice-

Best Marksman

REX FLACH

State Highway Police Officer from Amboy, who yesterday afternoon received Governor Henry Horner's personal decoration, a handsome gold medal, for having attained the record of being the outstanding pistol shot among all state police of Illinois. He likewise was one of three officers in the First District to be decorated with the sharpshooter's medal at meeting held at state police headquarters at Sterling, which was attended by numerous state officials from Springfield.

FLACH IS GIVEN HORNER'S MEDAL

Amboy State Policeman Best Pistol Shot on Whole Force

State Highway Patrolman Rex Flach of Amboy received an outstanding decoration yesterday afternoon at the regular weekly meeting of the officers of the first district at the Sterling headquarters, when he was given Governor Horner's personal recognition for his fine record as leading pistol shot of all Illinois state police. A number of state officials from Springfield were present at the meeting, including G. H. Williams, superintendent of state police; L. M. Taylor, assistant superintendent; Captain Bentley, inspector and instructor; and Ernest Lieberman, chief highway engineer.

A beautiful gold medal suspended by a ribbon from a gold bar, is the recognition of Officer Flach's marksmanship during the past year when he scored the highest of any state officer in Illinois and as a result he will represent the Illinois state police at the national competition matches. Engraved on the back of the medal is the inscription:

"Presented by Governor Horner to Rex Flach, officer of district No. 1, for highest pistol score - 1935."

The Amboy state police officer received a second decoration, a silver medal in recognition of his having attained the mark of sharpshooter in the district, three of these having been awarded. Four marksman medals were also presented to the officers of the district. A beautiful silver loving cup was received by the district for having attained the highest record of efficiency and equipment of all the state districts during 1935, a record which every officer in the district has assisted in establishing and of which all are justly proud.

Senate Committee Refuses to Urge Overriding Veto

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—The senate agriculture committee rejected, 7 to 3, a motion today by Chairman Smith (D-SO) to report President Roosevelt's veto of the $50,000,000 seed loan bill to the senate for a vote to override.

The committee adopted a substitute proposal that the president be requested to make immediately available $30,000,000 in emergency relief funds for 1936 seed loans to farmers. This motion carried by an 8 to 1 vote.

Convict Attempts Flaming Suicide

Springfield, Ill., March 5.—(AP)—Richard Rhodes, 25, sentenced to prison for one year to life for robberies, was guarded closely today after he was found in a flaming cell in what authorities said was an attempt to end his life.

Deputy sheriffs stamped out the fire on bedding and Rhodes was unhurt. He was shot in the side last week during an attempt to escape from an automobile.

Rhodes is one of the trio accused of 14 robberies and abductions here February 15 and 16.

SUGGESTIONS FOR BOOSTING REVENUE MADE

Income and Process Taxes Discussed As Means

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—Administration experts submitted to a House Ways and Means subcommittee today suggestions for raising up to $446,000,000 additional revenue from income taxes and $221,000,000 annually from farm processing taxes.

Chairman Samuel B. Hill (D-Wash.) emphasized to reporters that the figures and schedules were mere suggestions for possible sources of revenue submitted to the subcommittee because it wants complete information on all methods of obtaining money to meet President Roosevelt's tax proposals.

The income tax material came from treasury experts, while agriculture department officials supplied the processing tax estimates.

The treasury experts, Hill said, also turned in figures to show how a 1 per cent general manufacturers excise tax would bring in around $180,000,000 a year, while a 5 per cent tax would yield about $910,000,000.

Some Exemptions
Hill said the proposed excise levies would not apply to liquor and tobacco, already taxed, nor to food, clothing and medicine. The present yield from excise taxes, he said, is about $380,000,000.

In the income tax field, he said it was estimated $45,000,000 would come in should the exemption of a single man be lowered from $1,000 to $800 and that of a married person from $2,500 to $2,000.

Leaving exemptions as they are now, he said, and at the same time boosting the normal tax from 4 to 6 per cent, would add an estimated $121,000,000 to the government's annual receipts.

By lowering exemptions on surtaxes from $4,000 to $3,000, Hill asserted, and sharply increasing the rates in income brackets up to $100,000, the treasury would get an extra $226,000,000 annually.

(The normal tax as individual income now is 4 per cent; the surtax starts at 4 per cent and increases to 75 per cent on incomes of $5,000,000 and over.)

Combination Possibilities
"A combination of all these possibilities of all income taxes would raise $446,000,000 additional," he said.

Submitted by the agriculture department were proposed taxes on some 33 farm products and competing products, or subdivisions of products. Some eight or nine commodities and products were subject to

Lee County's Share February Fuel Tax is Fixed at $3,723

Springfield, Ill., March 5.—(AP)—A net allotment of $396,826 was made to counties as their share of the motor fuel tax for February, the department of finance announced today.

In addition, the state held in reserve $204,885 to be applied to the $20,000,000 emergency relief bond issue and $81,611 for interest and retirement of the $30,000,000 relief bond issue.

The state collected $2,214,002 in motor fuel revenue last month, compared with $2,013,847 for February a year ago.

Net allotments to counties included: Bureau, $4,076; Carroll, $2,219; Jo Daviess, $2,029; Kane, $11,970; LaSalle, $8,436; Lee, $3,723; Stephenson, $4,521; Whiteside, $5,162.

HOUSE DEMANDS STATE PAYROLL SALARY LISTS

Springfield, Ill., March 5.—(AP)—The House today adopted a resolution demanding that Auditor Edward J. Barrett comply with the law requiring that he make public a list showing the names and salaries of persons on the state payroll last year.

Rep. L. M. Green of Rockford, Republican leader, introduced the resolution, charging that Barrett had refused to comply with the law on payroll publicity.

B. S. Adamowski of Chicago, Democratic leader, said department heads under Governor Horner had failed to give the auditor the information concerning their payrolls. He said code departments under the governor are understood to have hired 1,500 additional persons since the start of the Democratic primary campaign.

The law on publicity was intended to prevent "padded payrolls," Green said. His resolution asked that the local state's attorney take action if the list of employees is not made public within five days. Adamowski suggested that Barrett make public the names already in his possession.

Only 78 Representatives, one more than a quorum, were present this morning and no other action was attempted.

FINISH INQUEST INTO DEATH OF IOWA TRUCK MAN

Open Verdict Returned by Jury in Session This Morning

The inquest into the death of Fred E. Watson of Webster City, Iowa, at the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital Tuesday morning, following one of the worst auto crashes in this vicinity in many months, was concluded this morning. Three attorneys were present at the inquest at the Preston mortuary. State's Attorney Edward Jones conducting the examination of the witnesses, Attorney H. C. Warner appearing for Walter Behrens, driver of the east bound stock truck which collided with one in which the victim was riding, and Attorney Fremont Kauffman representing the Webster City Trucking company, owner of the truck in which Watson was fatally injured.

The verdict of the jury found the cause of death as being from a skull fracture and internal injuries sustained in the crash, death taking place at 1:20 Tuesday morning at the Dixon hospital.

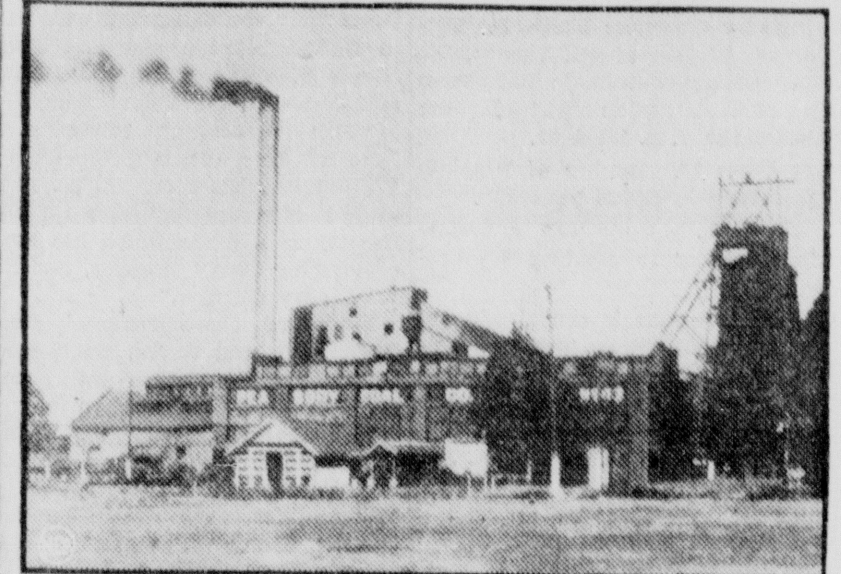

Three witnesses testified at the inquest, Behrens being the first to testify. He stated that he stopped at Sterling for a lunch and met Ralph Hackbarth, whom he invited to make the trip to Chicago and return with him. He left Sterling about 12 o'clock and estimated the speed of his truck at about 32 miles an hour and at the curve where the accident occurred, he said he reduced his speed on account of the ice covered road and pulled the right wheels of both tractor and trailer off on the shoulder. He testified that he observed the west bound truck approaching some distance away and that the tractors of both trucks cleared after which the crash occurred. He did not see Watson at any time but observed the assistant driver, Truman Roberts lying on the highway.

Load of 13,000 Pounds
Behrens testified that he had been driving trucks carrying stock from Round Grove to Chicago since the first of the year, and in response to questions, stated that his truck did not skid on the ice coated paving at the point of the collision and that he was not blinded by the lights of the west bound truck. His cargo consisted of 54 head of hogs and two calves, representing a weight, he estimated at about 13,000 pounds.

Hackbarth's testimony corroborated Behrens'.

Reopening of Harrisburg Mine Results in General Business "Holiday" Today

Reopened after a violent feud between rival unions caused it to be shut down 29 months ago, the Peabody Coal Company's mine No. 43 near Harrisburg, shown above, again was the center of union controversy when the Progressive Miners of America asked citizens of Saline county to join in a general strike in protest against No. 43's opening under a United Mine Workers contract. Charging importation of outside labor to work the mines, and discrimination against PMA workers, the PMA asked that all rights and privileges be returned to the employees of Peabody 43 and 47. Several persons were shot in the 1933 flare-up between the unions which caused No. 43 to be shut down.

SOME ODDITIES IN TODAY'S A. P. WORLD NEWS REPORT

TO GET PENSIONS?

Galena, Ill.—Joseph P. Bancroft, 78, and Mrs. Ella Tucker, 72, both of Nora, Ill., were married here, then secured a certified copy of their marriage application from County Clerk Carl Schoenbar, Bancroft said they wanted it "to establish our eligibility for Illinois old age pensions."

NICE DOGGIE!

Colorado Springs, Colo., March 5.—(AP)—The Rev. Paul Robert's watchdog slept soundly while burglars ransacked the clergyman's home. But when detectives arrived to investigate the burglary the dog refused to let them in.

TWAS STAGE MONEY

Rockford, Ill., March 5.—(AP)—Brewer Larson bought some beer. The bartender Morris Coetzee said, "here is a $5 bill—it's WPA stage money." Coetzee laughed, took the bill, gave Larson the change. Then Coetzee went to the bank. The teller told him the bill really was stage money. The police questioned Larson but informed Coetzee they didn't know what they could do about it.

DIED AT CLINIC

Belleville, Ill., March 5.—(AP)—Louis M. Wolz, 70, dropped dead last night at a heart disease clinic. Dr. R. S. Berghoff, heart specialist of Loyola University, Chicago, has just started an examination of the retired teamster who lives near here, when Wolz fell from his chair. All efforts to revive him failed. His widow and four children survive.

After Wolz died the 14 other patients brought in by two dozen physicians for the demonstration went home. One person was examined before Wolz, laughing and joking, took his place in full view of the group.

Edward Hayes Died at His Amboy Home

Edward W. (Doc) Hayes, well known Amboy native, passed away at 9:30 o'clock this morning at his home after an illness of about two weeks' duration. Heart trouble was the cause of his passing. Funeral services will be held at St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, with burial in St. Patrick's cemetery.

CANDIDATE COMING

H. Wallace Caldwell of Oak Park, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, will be here tomorrow from 12 noon until 1:30 on a tour of twenty counties in the state. He is making the trip by automobile to confer with county chairmen, committeemen and other Republican leaders. This is the second week of his downstate campaign.

ADMITTED TO BAIL

Judge William J. Fulton, presiding in the DeKalb county circuit court at Sycamore yesterday afternoon granted the petition of Dr. C. L. Cheney of DeKalb to be admitted to bail and fixed the bond at $10,000. Arrangements were launched at once by the physician's attorney to produce the amount and the doctor was returned to the county jail to await the filing of the bond.

Dr. Cheney's wife is ill at the home in DeKalb and requires his services, the petition set forth. State's Attorney Latham Caste appeared before the court to oppose the admission of the physician to bail.

NEW DEAL CASES DROPPED BY U. S.

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—Two New Deal cases involving the government's right to condemn land for PWA slum clearance and low cost housing projects were dismissed today by the Supreme Court at the request of the government.

This action leaves in effect lower court decisions that the government did not have the right of condemnation for such purposes.

The decisions grew out of projects in Louisville, Ky., and Detroit.

The action was requested by Solicitor General Stanley Reed. He gave no reason.

"Let them be dismissed," said Chief Justice Hughes.

The entire proceeding occupied only a few seconds.

"Cases Become Moot."
After he left the courtroom Reed told newsmen the dismissal was asked because "the cases have become moot since all the available money has been spent otherwise."

Earlier PWA officials had said the litigation would have little practical effect, even if the government lost in the Supreme Court, unless more money should be appropriated.

When the lower courts ruled against the government, PWA immediately began obtaining land for other projects by negotiation of voluntary purchases.

Under housing legislation now being drafted, the emphasis was understood to turn to state action rather than federal activity.

Dismissal of this litigation leaves only two New Deal cases pending, both to be argued next week. They involve constitutionality of the Guffey coal act and the 1933 securities act.

State's Income Exceeds Outgo By $3,000,000

Springfield, Ill., March 5.—(AP)—Treasurer John Stelle's office today announced that the state's income during February was $14,353,141, compared with disbursements of $11,414,930.

The revenue compared with $19,373,084 in January, $12,343,638 in February, 1935, and $10,837,929, exclusive of relief bond sales in February, 1934.

Sources of last month's income were given in the monthly report as: Direct property tax, $360,825; inheritance tax, $463,549; beverage and liquor tax, $681,844; insurance taxes and fees, $37,025; corporation fees and taxes, $105,400; interest on state funds, $14,000; (sales) tax, $3,212,653; sales tax paid under protest, $585,850; sales tax, for relief, $1,946,700; motor fuel tax, $2,225,219; motor vehicle tax, $2,592,769; federal tax, $2,225,219; motor vehicle tax, $2,592,769; federal aid to roads $863,844; trust funds, $481,708; miscellaneous fees, earnings and refunds, $781,742.

RESCUED BY FIREMEN

Wheaton, Ill.—Frank Holstein and Herbert Wehling, volunteer firemen, rescued Dr. George B. Dyche and Mrs. Dyche from their home one mile south of here where they were overcome by smoke from fire. The blaze was extinguished with minor damage.

At the Dixon dam the gradual rise continued this afternoon. At the high school park the water was about to leave the banks and overflow the land near the tennis courts.

FINISH FIGHT IN NEW YORK STRIKE NEAR

Building Workers in Three More Sectors are Called Out

New York, March 5.—(AP)—Carrying out his promise of a "fight to the finish" following unsuccessful peace negotiations, James J. Bambrick, leader of the building workers strike, today ordered his district lieutenants to prepare to call out employees in three sections of the city, one of them the big midtown office building area.

In the mid-town or Grand Central district are located some of the city's largest skyscrapers, notably Rockefeller Center, the Empire State Building and the Chrysler Tower.

Orders for the strike call also went out to field operatives in two other sectors as yet unaffected by the walk-out—Harlem and Washington Heights.

To Brooklyn Queens.
Tomorrow, Bambrick declared, the strike zone would be extended to Brooklyn and Queens. He added that he had been notified by officials of the hotel employees' union that workers in some of the city's largest hostilities would join the walkout tomorrow.

About a dozen appeals for National Guard or increased police protection have been telegraphed to Governor Herbert H. Lehman by apartment dwellers and real estate owners, the governor's office reported at Albany.

Police estimated that the fourth day of the strike found service impaired in 1,508 buildings. They also reported that since the strike began Sunday they had made 90 arrests for assault and other forms of violence.

Emerging from the long conference at city hall this morning, Bambrick declared that union spokesmen had "offered to arbitrate everything in the interests of the general public" but the real estate owners "flatly refused to arbitrate."

Mayor Blamed Owners.
Mayor LaGuardia expressed keen disappointment over the breakdown of negotiations, and blamed the real estate owners for the failure. He said the difficulty could best be adjusted by negotiation of agreements between the union and individual owners.

Bambrick and George Scallise, international vice president of the union, faced questioning by District Attorney William C. Dodge concerning alleged inflammatory remarks made by Bambrick at a workers' rally Tuesday night.

Following the rally, strikers marched on Park avenue, smashing windows and making repeated attempts to yank replacement workers from their posts. Police dispersed them.

"Requests" subpoenas were issued calling for the appearance of the union officials in the district attorney's office.

The League of Women Shoppers endorsed the strike, issuing a statement saying a survey of conditions leading up to the strike showed that building workers were underpaid and that their hours were too long.

Comparative peace reigned today following sabotage and disorders throughout Wednesday.

Dry Spring Will Aid Chinch Bugs

Urbana, Ill., March 5.—(AP)—A serious threat of damage by chinch bugs—if the spring weather is dry—faces central and north central Illinois counties, chief entomologist W. P. Flint of the state college of agriculture said today.

While the unusually cold winter weather killed a number of the bugs, from 75 to 90 per cent of them have been found alive in protected areas where they are hibernating, Flint said a recent survey disclosed.

In a few areas, where the bugs failed to "dig in" deep enough, the mortality rate was as high as 75 per cent. However, in heavily infested areas, particularly the central and north central parts, enough live ones to cause considerable damage were reported.

The entomologist estimated that chinch bugs two years ago caused damage of $40,000,000 to corn and small grains in Illinois.

A cold, rainy period would assist in keeping down damage, Flint declared.

JOBS GO BEGGING

Chicago.—The central office of the Illinois state employment service announced the demand for married couples to work on farms exceeded the number of applicants. Pay offered averaged $35 to $40 per month, board and lodging, said Donald Vandercrook, manager.

Salvation Army's Tag Day Saturday

Saturday the Dixon Salvation Army tag effort will be made under a permit given by Mayor W. V. Slowthover. What tag efforts in Lee and Ogles county towns were not completed last Saturday will also go on this Saturday. These tag efforts will complete the Salvation Army home service appeal in the two counties.

Dixon girls will give everybody in the residence and business sections of the city the opportunity to help and wear a tag next Saturday afternoon to help the Army in its Illinois program of relief among the needy and unfortunate. Any amount dropped in the tag boxes will bring a tag to the contributor.

The tag headquarters this year are located in the newboys' recreation room in the Evening Telegraph office at 124 East First street where the taggers are asked to report their results.

East St. Louis, Ill., March 5.—(AP)—The trial of Sylvan Thorpe, 22, for murder in the death of Ralph W. Colmer continued today after testimony by Thorpe that he struck Colmer with a billiard cue in defense of his father, Jesse Thorpe.

Colmer was fatally injured in a fight in the elder Thorpe's poolroom here.

Sylvan Thorpe asserted Colmer threatened his father after entering the poolroom apparently intoxicated.

The elder Colmer, also indicted in the slaying, was a fugitive until Tuesday when he entered the courtroom here at the start of his son's trial and gave himself up.

OVER FIFTH WPA
WORKERS TO BE TAKEN OFF ROLL

Reduction Will Be In Full Effect by the First of June

Chicago, March 5.—(AP)—About 42,000 persons, or 22 per cent of the total, will be removed from works progress administration payrolls in Illinois between now and June, Ralph H. Burke, acting state WPA administrator, announced today.

"This reduction," Burke said, "has not been officially ordered by Washington, but soon will be. It is in line with the reduction for the country as a whole which has been ordered by Harry Hopkins, Federal WPA administrator."

Many of those removed from WPA rolls, said Burke, would only be transferred to other work sponsored by government agencies.

"We also hope," Burke said, "that the opening of the farm season in downstate areas will provide many opportunities for private employment. It is our belief that virtually every person removed from WPA payrolls will be attached to some other payroll immediately."

Members of the board are Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes, Auditor Edward J. Barrett and Governor Horner, who was represented by Executive Assistant Alexander Wilson.

Hughes said today's meeting would be the only one of the board, whose duty is to issue certificates to county clerks authorizing them to place on the ballots properly qualified candidates' names. The certificates must be issued by March 10.

San Juan, P. R., March 4.—(AP)—The National Guard units of San Juan were mobilized in their armories against possible emergencies today as the United States arrested seven Nationalists on charges of recruiting soldiers in a conspiracy to overthrow the government of the United States by force.

Chief of the seven arrested was Pedro Albizu Campos, Harvard graduate and leader of the movement which seeks to overthrow United States sovereignty and establish the territory of Puerto Rico as an independent nation.

Albizu surrendered to United States Marshal Draughton as soon as he learned a warrant had been issued for his arrest and the six other prisoners also submitted to arrest without protest.

A review of the reserve officers training corps of the University of Puerto Rico, scheduled for this afternoon, was called off, due to the non-arrival of Inspector-General Collins of the Second Corps area, who was to have inspected the cadets.

Previously, Governor Blanton Winship had been urged not to attend the review owing to the possibility of trouble from student Nationalists.

The warrants for arrest also contained the charge of inciting to insurrection.

Horner's Signature Awaited On Special Primary Bills Today

Springfield, Ill., March 5.—(AP)—Special bills to permit Cook county Republicans to participate in the April 14 election today were awaiting Governor Horner's signature.

They were passed by the house yesterday as L. M. Green of Rockford, minority leader, criticized Chicago Republicans for entering their candidates on a Democratic slate in a bi-partisan judicial election last June, which caused questions as to whether the party legally exists in Cook county.

Governor Horner is expected to sign the bills, by Senators Earl B. Searcy of Springfield and William E. King of Chicago, Republicans, to change the definition of a general election to validate nomination petitions circulated in Cook county.

PETITIONS OF CANDIDATES TO BE EXAMINED

Objections Filed To Petitions Of Some Entrants

BULLETIN

Springfield, Ill., March 5.—(AP)—The state certifying board today disqualified Walter Nesbit of Belleville as a candidate for the Democratic State Central Committee on the grounds his certificate and petition said he filed for nomination instead of election.

Board members announced they had not disqualified H. Wallace Caldwell of Chicago, whose certificate of candidacy for the Republican gubernatorial nomination was not notarized.

Disqualification of Nesbit, who appeared before the board, leaves Bruce Campbell, state Democratic chairman, unopposed in the 22nd congressional district.

Nesbit was Governor Horner's candidate against Campbell, who joined the Kelly-Nash organization of Chicago in endorsing Dr. Herman N. Bundesen of Chicago for governor.

Springfield, Ill., March 5.—(AP)—The state certifying board met today behind closed doors to examine the petitions of candidates for the April 14 primaries, but members said they would hear any persons wishing to present personally objections or defenses of petitions.

Members of the board are Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes, Auditor Edward J. Barrett and Governor Horner, who was represented by Executive Assistant Alexander Wilson.

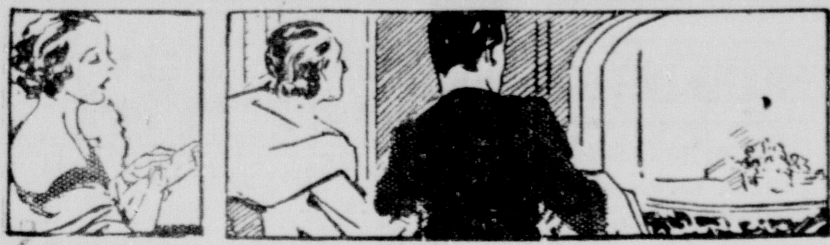

Hughes said today's meeting would be the only one of the board, whose duty is to issue certificates to county clerks authorizing them to place on the ballots properly qualified candidates' names. The certificates must be issued by March 10.

THE RACKETEERS

By Joseph Fort Newton
NO LAND on earth would put up with racketeers as America does. We actually let them levy a tax on business, and collect it at the point of a gun. They hold us up, shake us down, and get away with it.

But how about the racketeers within each of us? They are the worst gangsters of all, preying upon our finest powers, robbing us of rightful peace and joy. They know no mercy and make life a torture.

Fear is a ruthless racketeer—it makes the daytime a dread and the night a horror. It inhibits our best impulses, paralyzes our noblest instincts and leaves our ability so fixated as to be futile.

The same is true of the sense of inferiority: it is fear in another form—fear of ourselves which congests our powers. The result is either a riot or a strike among our capacities, and we fail.

Such defeats of intelligence are not caused by mental deficiency. We have plenty of sense, but not sense enough to use it. Our life, which ought to be positive, is made negative, neutral, or just nil.

Worry is one of the worst of racketeers. It weakens us, unites for our work, and takes terrible toll of our usefulness. Nothing can hold us up and shake us down like fear turned to fretful worry.

What a cruel racketeer jealousy is—making life a red hell for ourselves and others. It distorts innocent acts, makes little things into monsters, and can easily make a wreck of love and life.

Most of us live, much of the time, with the brakes on. No wonder we suffer from fatigue, worn out pulling a double load. Our energy is wasted either in stagnation or in conflict or in confusion.

What are we going to do about it? Just let the racketeers take us for a ride and rob life of its radiance. Or assert our rights, use our energy, and refuse to be ruled by negative imagery in our mind?

It is up to us whether we let any of these inner racketeers clam up the flow of our life, making it a puddle of weakness when it ought to be a stream of power. Why be a victim of foolish self-defeat? (Copyright, 1936, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Einspahr-Heckman Wedding Is Noted

Mrs. Kathryn Einspahr and Lester Heckman of Amboy, were united in marriage Saturday morning at the Methodist parsonage in Dixon, Rev. Howard Buxton officiating. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Heckman went to Sterling where they visited over the week-end at the home of her sister, Mrs. Berthold Blei. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Augusta Gewecke. Both she and her husband are well known and have many friends in Amboy.

Mr. Heckman is employed as caretaker of Prairie Repose cemetery. They will live in Mrs. Heckman's house on Provost street which has been occupied by Clyde Keelin.

Cap., Mrs. Richardson to Philippines

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Richardson of Dixon have received word that their son, Capt. W. L. Richardson of the Coast Artillery, now stationed at Fort Monroe, Virginia, is leaving soon with his wife for the Philippines. Their many Dixon friends regret their transfer to so distant a post, for they will be in the Philippines two years.

Captain and Mrs. Richardson are sailing from New York on March 14th and will sail through the Panama Canal, with stops at San Francisco, Honolulu, the Island of Guam and expect to arrive at Manila, April 29th.

Following the ceremony a two course luncheon was served to the bride party and Reverend Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Nicholson, Paul Wasson and daughter Betty, Mildred Wasson and Mrs. Glenn Winans.

The bride and groom are well known in Amboy. Mrs. Nicholson is a graduate of Amboy high school and of the Globe Hospital in Freeport. For the past five years she has been employed as night nurse at Amboy Hospital. Mr. Nicholson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Nicholson. He and his bride will live on a farm near Lee Center, where they are now at home.

Refuse to Marry Fairbanks, and Lady Ashley Today in Paris

Paris, March 5.—(AP)—Attaches of the United States consulate refused today to marry Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., movie actor, and Lady Ashley, former actress.

The consulate officials told Fairbanks that they did not have the right to perform the ceremony.

Previously, French authorities had refused to make an exception for Fairbanks and Lady Ashley to the French laws governing marriages.

Friends of Fairbanks said the actor intended to try to get the ceremony performed in some other European country.

Board of 13th District Meets Mar. 12th

The board of the 13th district of Illinois, Federation of Women's clubs, will meet in Freeport Thursday, March 12th, at the First M. E. church, 328 West Stephenson street, in an all day session opening at 10 o'clock. Mrs. O. H. Rahn of Chadwick, district president, will be in charge. Reports of officers, presidents and district chairmen will be given, and arrangements made for annual district convention at Sterling the first week of May.

Miss Crawford Entertains Auxiliary

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church met at the home of Miss Grace Crawford Tuesday evening. All members present greatly enjoyed the piano numbers rendered by Mr. Bain. Mrs. W. C. Durkes had charge of the devotions.

The president, Mrs. Merriman, announced the April meeting would be with Mrs. Brown at the home of Mrs. Mellott.

At the close of the business meeting, the hostess and her committee served very dainty refreshments.

Display in Geisenheimer Window Has Special Significance International Month

To some passers-by, the A. L. Geisenheimer & Co. show window, with its display of dolls against a background of the American flag and Scout colors is just another window—to others, it is a bit of art in miniature figures, but to the Girl Scouts it is a gesture of further recognition of International month which they have been observing the past few weeks.

Most of the dolls were imported in native garb from the countries they represent. The wee Brownie and tiny Girl Scout, who are in the center of the group, showing such apparent interest in the little foreign visitors, were dressed by the local Brownie and Scout leaders.

Scouting is rapidly being recognized as a promoter of World Peace since it is an International organization existing for the purpose of establishing proper relationships.

Most of the dolls in the unique collection belong to Miss Leona Goulding of Sterling, with whom doll collecting is a hobby. She very generously loaned them to Mrs. Hardy, local director of Girl Scouts for this exhibit.

Many of the dolls were brought from Europe by Mr. Sandberg in a recent visit there.

Weigle-Blocher Wedding of Interest To Friends in Dixon

The wedding of Miss Helen Mae Blocher and David O. Weigle of Franklin Grove was solemnized Saturday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage in Ashton Rev. L. E. Winter officiating, using the double ring ceremony. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blocher of Franklin Grove. She is a graduate of Franklin Grove high school and later attended Cornell college at Mt. Vernon, Ia., after which she attended Coppins Business college in Dixon. She has been employed for some time as stenographer for Walter Knack in Dixon.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Weigle, former Amboy residents, now of Franklin Grove. He is also a graduate of Franklin Grove high school, after which he attended University of Wisconsin Extension for one year. He is a graduate of Spencerian Business college at Milwaukee, Wis., and is now employed as bookkeeper in the office of the Lee County National Farm Loan association in Amboy. Mr. and Mrs. Weigle spent a short honeymoon in Chicago, returning home Sunday evening. They will make their home in Dixon. Their many friends in Dixon, Franklin Grove and Amboy are wishing them much happiness.

Meeting of Troop Four Is Enjoyed

The meeting of Troop IV Tuesday was enjoyed with its usual enthusiasm. A code game which featured two teams, two conductors who collected tickets and an information bureau was very exciting and much fun to play. The major part of the meeting was spent in sewing. Each girl brought her own equipment and from all appearances there will be some very attractive completed work. Mrs. Hardy, the local Scout director, was a visitor at the meeting. This troop has welcomed seven new members during the last several weeks.

Mother of Mrs. Petersberger 95 Friday

Mrs. Emma Lindauer of Chicago, mother of Mrs. Joe Petersberger of Dixon, will be 95 years old tomorrow, and to celebrate the occasion Mr. and Mrs. Joe Petersberger left Dixon this morning. The Dixonites will be in attendance at the family dinner to be given Friday, honoring Mrs. Lindauer. Mr. Petersberger states that she will be the spriest and most enthusiastic person there. Her health is good and she is interested in all the current events of the day.

Mrs. Carpenter Entertains the Easy Aces Club

Mrs. Vera Carpenter entertained the Easy Aces Bridge Club yesterday. Mrs. Wilbur Winn won the first prize. Dainty refreshments were served, the menu being carried out in pink, the color note of the attractive decorations. Mrs. Mark Smith, Jr., and Mrs. Earl Stevens were guests for the afternoon.

The Practical Club met at Tuesday and after a 1 o'clock luncheon adjourned to the home of Mrs. G. P. Powell where they enjoyed interesting articles from the Readers Digest by Mrs. Frances Miller, Mrs. H. D. Bills, and Mrs. H. E. Sennett.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

MEDICINE LABELS HELP AVOID MIXUPS

Every bottle in the family medicine chest should be clearly labeled. Maids should be warned never to get out a pill or dose of liquid medicine in the dark to give to any one. Often, people think they know so well the position of the bottle or pill-box they want that they do not realize the risk they are running.

All poisons and dangerous medicines should be kept so high on the shelves that children cannot reach them.

Hint on Egg Poaching

To keep poaching eggs from sticking to the pan, put a long handled spoon into the water and hold the egg on it for a moment.

ODD AND ENDS

If you are afraid the plaster will crumble when you drive a nail into the wall, put the nail in piping hot water before driving it into the plaster.

A touch of burnt sugar added to the flour which you use in making roast-beef or lamb gravy will create a pleasant flavor.

Sauce For The Sundae

Take some of the strawberries that are not so big and ripe and luscious as others and put on the stove to cook, using a little sugar which will bring out the juice. Do not really cook them, just soften them up. Then mash them and put in a little lemon and a pinch of salt. This will make a delicious sauce for strawberry ice, and the same can be done with raspberries. This added sauce with both ice cream and ice is very delicious.

WASHING HINTS

Rag rugs should be scrubbed thoroughly until all dirt is banished. After that they should be rinsed quite as thoroughly in clear water. So much is more or less obvious. But when this simple, though essential procedure has been carried out, dip them in a thin starch. It will give the rugs more "body", and keep them from looking limp and will also save them longer from the onslaught of dirt.

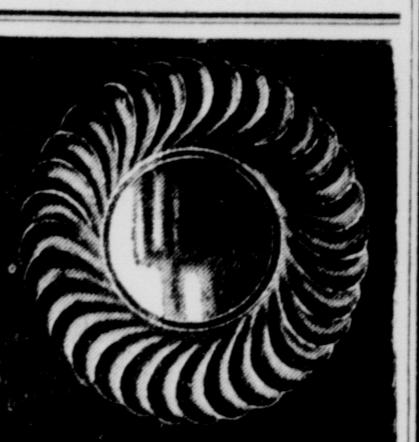

If the males of the household have ties that can be washed there is nothing that can do the ties so much good and they will look far better than though they were cleaned. But before washing ties haste the linings very carefully so that the paddings will not become lumpy. Take out the basting before ironing.

HARMON UNIT TO MEET WEDNESDAY

The Harmon Unit of the Home Bureau will meet next Wednesday with Mrs. Ellis Kugler in Harmon, when plans for the February meeting will be carried out. Members should note the change of meeting place. Because of the condition of the roads the February meeting has not yet been held.

RED CROSS HOME HYGIENE CLASS TO MEET

The Red Cross Home Hygiene class will resume its weekly sessions in the domestic science room at the high school building tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The class will hereafter meet at that hour each Friday.

Dr. C. T. Hickok's Address Feature P. T. A. Meet Last Eve

The South Central P. T. A. meeting held last evening at the South Central school, proved to be exceptional.

After a short business session and some expert modeling of the new ponchos recently purchased for the patrol boys, the audience had the pleasure of hearing Mrs. E. A. Logan, a talented violinist, give two selections, the Venetian Love Song, and the Gondoliers, by Nevin. Mrs. Logan was artistically accompanied at the piano by Mrs. William Haefliger.

The speaker of the evening whose address was so much appreciated by everyone present was Dr. C. T. Hickok, who is dean of the department of Social Science at Coe college.

Dr. Hickok cited England as a nation having great reverence for tradition, government, law and order. He urged America, an English speaking nation, largely descended from the English, to endeavor to make America a country abiding in law and order, proud of its heritage. Parents and teachers, he believed, were the ones to do this. All attending the meeting enjoyed a worthwhile evening.

REMODELING COPYRIGHT LAWS

Remodeling of copyright laws is in progress in congress.

For many years these laws fit the times. Creators were satisfied with the protection afforded them and the public had no reasonable objection to make.

Then came the radio, which upset the situation. Song writers are the ones who are most deeply concerned in the copyright laws as they are now and as they may be when they are reformed, if they are reformed.

Before days of radio, the writer of a popular song cashed in on sales of sheet music. That was the object of putting the song on the market. Everybody expected the "hit" to make the composer rich and everybody hoped it would. If a song were popular, so was the composer, of course.

Then came additional profits to be made from phonograph records. That the creator of the music should receive reward through that operation was expected also.

During all this time when copies of songs, of orchestra and band music were purchased, the composer was satisfied with the royalty on music sales and did not concern himself about what use was made of the music sold. The singer who bought the sheet music might sing it where he or she chose.

Then came the radio. Stacks of sheet music in cabinets at the piano remained in status quo. Gatherings of young people about the piano for the singing of popular songs all but ceased. Revenues of song writers diminished. At least it is said they did. There still have been singers on radio stations everywhere. There have been those whose ambitions have been stirred by radio successes.

There have been as many or more students of music. But, let that be as it may, it is said that the revenues of song writers diminished. Some of the composers joined a move to establish their rights to revenues from royalty on all public performances for profit in which their music was used. They were successful in obtaining an interpretation of the law to the effect that they were entitled to collect such royalty. As stated by Representative Dirksen in his news letter:

"Every owner of a commercial establishment such as a dance hall, drug store, barber shop, tavern, cafe or other place where radio music is received for the benefit and entertainment of patrons, is liable to a minimum fine of $250 under the copyright laws, if such music happens to be copyrighted."

It now appears that the composers made out too good a case for themselves, for the public will hardly sustain them in what might be called "music to the third degree." The composer collects from the person who bought the copy, he collects from the radio chain or station that broadcasts the music, and under the law he may collect from the saloon or cafe that has a radio turned on for entertainment of its customers.

At a congressional committee hearing on the bill to modify the law, the spokesman for the artists denied that his organization contemplated such collections and brought Representative O'Malley of Wisconsin into the argument.

"It's been true in Milwaukee," said O'Malley. "They've been trying to get the small innkeeper to cough up a $250 license fee to let one musician play these songs. But we know how to deal with them here. We toss them out on their ear."

All of which indicates that when the artists organize to get theirs down to the third degree of use of their music, they are doing what we all do when we reach too far. We get our fingers caught in the machinery.

Amendment of the law now is sought by hotel managers and others, which will release them from being subjected to the take-off unless a charge is made at the door for admittance.

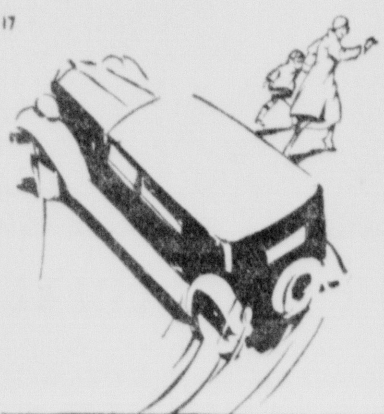

Representative Dirksen also indicated that the copyright law, which now permits a photographer to copyright a picture and thereby prevent the subject of the picture to permit it to be published without royalty to the photographer, may be attacked on that angle. The purpose, we take it, is to give the subject of the photograph a propriety right as well as the photographer.

TO THE NEW PILOT

Dr. Henry Van Dyke wrote verse for this generation, verse that is likely to live far beyond us. He was a Presbyterian minister. We do not know his political views, but, if he were not a strict partisan of democratic stripe, circumstances carried him along with the leaders of that party. He was a professor of literature at Princeton university under the presidency of Woodrow Wilson. When Wilson went to the White House, Van Dyke was sent as minister to The Netherlands, and there remained four years. In the heat of the campaign of 1928 when religion played a particular part, Dr. Van Dyke undertook to neutralize it by making a short radio address, in which he referred to Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt as a "firebrand."

The last poem written by this distinguished American was directed to the new president of the United States and was published five days after the inauguration and one month before his own death.

The new president was assistant secretary of the navy in the administration that favored also Dr. Van Dyke with appointment, and it was in that vein that the poet addressed the verse "To Our New Pilot." Published in the New York Times on March 9, 1933, and placed in our hands a few days ago, the poem reads:

O Pilot, in this dim, distressful day
Called to the helm, let nothing you dismay!
The Ship of State is sound, though careless hands
Have let her drift too near the fatal sands
Of Folly Bank. But you know how to steer!
"Wear ship," and find a channel safe and clear.
Try no wild ways where boats of old were wrecked;
Promise no miracles that fools expect;
But with clear eyes and hands as firm as steel
Guide the great vessel of the Common Weal.
Accept the help of every honest man,
Not asking what his party or his clan;
But send below the selfish, sordid few
Who gambled gaily while the storm clouds grew.
Protect the rights and savings of the poor;
Make honor bright and industry secure;
Nor from your fearless mind let slip

WALTZING AUTOS

Traffic deaths from skidding have averaged around 2,000 annually during recent years, with from 50,000 to 60,000 injuries. Skids are usually caused by thoughtless—plus snow, ice, rain, oil, or loose gravel. The open season on skidding starts with the Fall rains and runs through the Winter. Slippery streets are an open invitation for a whirling dervish by the motorist. Yet there are many dry weather cases on sprinkled, oily, or loose gravel roads. The careful driver seldom skids. He keeps his tires in good shape, his brakes equalized, and he doubles his alertness and cuts down his speed when there is danger of doing a motorized "Waltz-me-around-again-Willie."

When a skid occurs, do not jam on the brakes; easy pressure, frequently applied, is the best medicine. If possible turn your steering wheel in the direction of the skid. When you turn the other way you help the skid instead of your chances of escape.

Skidding is a spine-chilling experience, fully as dangerous as it seems.

The new buildings of the University of London are supported by concrete piles, driven 30 feet into the ground. The buildings are so planned that any necessary internal alterations, to meet requirements for years to come, can be made without touching the outer shell.

Even though there is no trace of gas odor present, death by ordinary manufactured gas can easily be detected. The blood of the victim absorbs an element of the gas, which causes the flesh to turn pink.

FLUSH OUT
15 MILES OF

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, setting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste, poisonous matter may develop, causing serious trouble. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist.

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

"Beneath the flare of violet ray, those violets could dance all day," exclaimed fair Miss Chrysanthemum. "They're happy as can be."

"They all were buried in the ground, and now they're up here, safe and sound. In just about a moment you will hear them thanking me."

"When they have danced enough, say so, and then I'll tell them they can go. I know, right now, what they will do. What do you Tinsies guess?"

All of the Tinsies thought a bit, and Dotty said, "I'm stuck by it. What they have in their little minds, I can't say, I'll confess."

"Why, they'll run off, and they'll find some new friends," said Miss Chrysanthemum. "Some lilies of the valley and some buttercups are near."

"Imagine, now, a shade of blue, and then some white and yellow, too. All of these little flowers are what fill the spring with cheer."

"Well, let them go, now," Scouty cried. "Why, even if they run and hide, they've given us a dandy show. There's naught more we can ask."

"Aw, I am sure they will not hide," another happy Tinsy cried. "Out in the warm and pretty sunshine they prefer to bask."

Soon off the little violets ran. Then, right up, walked a cattail man. Said he, "How would you like to see some buttercups at work?"

"A few have come up from the earth. They're working, now, for all they're worth. They know they have a task to do, and not a one will shirk."

"Oh, fine," the bunch heard Duncy say. "We'll follow you. Just lead the way. Fair buttercups at work's a sight I never thought I'd see."

They hadn't traveled very far till their slim friend cried, "There you are. The flowers are inside of that strange butter factory."

(The Tinsies watch the buttercups at work in the next story.)

The Country Doctor

A Novelization of the Twentieth Century-Fox Film, Starring the Dionne Quintuplets With Jean Hersholt, Dorothy Peterson, June Lang, Michael Whalen and Slim Summerville

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

DR. JOHN LUKE, country doctor in the little north woods settlement of Moosetown, has just been through a perilous diphtheria epidemic. He goes to Montreal to appeal to company officials to build a hospital in Moosetown.

Dr. Luke's nephew, TONY, who flew to Moosetown with antitoxin, is still there, waiting until his plane can be repaired. He becomes much interested in MARY MACKENZIE, daughter of the lumber company manager.

Tony and Mary go to a dance. MacKENZIE appears there and forces Tony into a fight. MacKENZIE falls, breaking his arm. He sends the constable to arrest Tony. Tony, however, leaves in his plane.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY. CHAPTER X.

The next boat brought a worried and "downcast" Dr. Luke back to Moosetown. All the way from Montreal he revolved over and over again in his head the events of his mission, the cold reception by Sir Basil, his own outburst at the medical association dinner, the chance meeting with the governor-general. Was it to be failure again? And how far had he advanced? He was independent of the company, but most of his patients worked for it. If its officials chose to exert pressure—Dr. Luke shrugged, and sighed heavily.

His spirits rose, however, as the boat drew nearer home, and the familiar smell of the spruce woods met his nostrils. And when the "North Star" whistled and approached the Moosetown landing, Dr. Luke was almost his old self again.

Nurse Kennedy had brought his car to the dock and on the way home gave the doctor a sketchy account of what had happened in his absence. She closed with "... and then, I'm happy to report, Tony nearly broke MacKENZIE in two with one punch. Isn't that nice?"

"It's no joking matter, Katherine," replied the doctor, slowly. "He sent word to the boat that he wanted to see me."

"His arm's probably hurting him—I hope!" suggested the nurse. "I had to put the splint on it myself."

After a quick look through his mail and a hasty unpacking, Dr. Luke drove direct to MacKENZIE's. He found the company manager seated behind his desk, arm in sling.

"Hello, Mack," said the doctor cordially. "Awfully sorry to hear about all this mix-up."

"Forget it," said MacKENZIE sourly. The doctor set down his black satchel on the desk. "Let's have a look at the arm," he began.

"Never mind the arm," said MacKENZIE brusquely. "You've gotten results already from your trip, that you undertook over my head."

"Results? Already?" The doctor was incredulous. "I was afraid I had failed entirely."

"I have a letter here from Sir Basil," resumed MacKENZIE coldly. "He tells me that you demanded action. Well, he's giving it to you. He's going to put a company doctor on here at a regular salary—$200 a month."

"Two hundred dollars?" The words lingered on Dr. Luke's lips. Then, anxiously, he continued, "But look, Mack, I went to Montreal to try to get a hospital—not to get myself a salary!"

"Who said it was for you?" queried MacKENZIE sneeringly. "Dr. Wilson, will you come here, please?"

From the next room there emerged a young man, whom Dr. Luke immediately recognized as having come up on the boat with him—a sour, uncommunicative individual.

"Dr. Wilson is the company's

"This man's wife is sick, and she wants me. I'm going to go, and I'm going to stay as long as she needs attention!" said Dr. Luke. "Come on, Asa!" Nurse Kennedy and Constable Ogden stared silently.

new doctor," went on MacKENZIE with a relish. "From now on he will attend our men and their families—without charge."

Stunned by the sight of his little world falling apart before his eyes, Dr. Luke made a gallant effort to pull himself together.

"Why, that's fine—that's fine, Mack. Be a good thing for the men..." He extended his hand to Dr. Wilson. "Welcome to you, Doctor. You'll find they are good people here. If there's any help you want—anything at all I can do just call on me."

There was an embarrassing silence for a moment. Then, slowly Dr. Luke picked up his black bag and his hat.

"Goodby, gentlemen," he said quietly, and turning slowly, he walked out the door with heavy feet. He returned to his house with a sense of foreboding, of the beginning of the end. Thirty-five years of building, and then—an earthquake!

The effects of the new company policy were not long in being felt. Not only did his actual practice fall off immediately to a mere trickle of patients. Some of his old friends and patients passed him hurriedly on the street without pausing for the usual interchange of greetings and gossip, as though they were conscious of eyes on them. Callers at the little consulting room became fewer and fewer. Today, the doctor's dog, slept for longer periods on the mat without interruption.

Once Mary called to say that she had a letter from Tony. She was tearful as she broke down. "Oh, Doc, I'm so sorry! I know what's happening, and I feel that if it hadn't been for me and Tony—"

"Don't know what you're talking about," mumbled the doctor in mock-gruffness, patting her shoulder.

"Well, everybody else does," asserted Mary.

Dr. Luke smiled. "Oh, now, now! We doctors have to get used to all sorts of things. People are sick and miserable, and that's good for the doctor." He was heavily jocose. "People are well and happy—the doctor starves."

"No matter what you say, I'm so sorry," Mary went on, near tears again. "I'm sorry, and I'm so ashamed, too!"

But Mary's anguish mended nothing. The doctor's practice continued to fall away. More and more he sat in the study adjoining his consulting room, with his shelves of books and magazines, reading aimlessly, or just staring into the fire. There were few calls to make, almost no patients knocking at the door.

One evening Nurse Kennedy called. From her own nearby house she had seen the doctor's shadow crossing and recrossing the window as he paced the floor.

"A little jumpy, doctor?" she called as she came in the front door. "Will you drink a cup of tea if I fix it?"

Dr. Luke halted his pacing, almost with relief. He regarded the nurse with a quizzical and humorous affection. "I'll do anything you say, Katherine," he said mildly.

"Will you?" she asked quickly. "Then how about getting out of here?"

"Please, now, Katherine," protested the doctor. "I've told you—"

Nurse Kennedy was relentless. "John, you've got to get out!" she said determinedly. "I know how you feel—I understand! But you can't do this to yourself, just for a lot of people who have let you down. A new community, a new start—"

"No, no, Katherine," protested the doctor. "They haven't let me down. Their jobs depend on MacKENZIE. They're helpless—"

"But you're not," shot back the nurse. "You don't have to stay and take all this. Go down to Montreal—you know Paul wants you to go into the Curzon Street Hospital with him. There's a boat tonight!"

"It's not that, Katherine." The doctor's voice was infinitely patient and tired. "It's just that this is my life. I've been up here 35 years. Maybe if I were young—but I'm not, young any more, Katherine. You can't transplant an old tree." Dr. Luke reached out and took the nurse's hand. "Besides," he added simply, "there's you."

"What about me?" asked Nurse Kennedy, a bit sharply.

"We've worked together a great many years, Katherine," said Dr. Luke with his gentle smile, "side by side—"

"And we will again, some day," spoke the nurse, turning away to hide an unprofessional tendency to tears.

"Dear Katherine," said the doctor almost to himself, "all I know of tenderness and loyalty I've learned from you."

Obviously bracing himself, he went on more spiritedly. "But they're not going to lick me! I'm staying on. I think I'd die, a little, if I had to leave this district!"

For a moment neither spoke. Then, with a start they heard a knock at the front door. It was Constable Jim Ogden, shifting from one foot to the other, obviously embarrassed.

"Well, Jim! Anybody sick at your house? Come in!" greeted the doctor.

"Nope! It's—business, this time, Doc." Ogden cast his eyes floorward, groping for words. "Listen Doc. Here's what it is. You know that new doctor up at the mill? Well, it seems he's been a-pokin' his nose into some records or other, and now he's claiming to MacKENZIE that you haven't even got any license to practice."

"What nonsense!" exploded Nurse Kennedy.

"S' what I told 'em!" confirmed the constable. "I told 'em they was crazy. I'm sorry I had to bother you, Doc! I'll be going now, and tell them—"

"Wait a minute, Jim!" cut in the doctor. He paused perceptibly, then continued with an effort. "It's true!"

"John!" Nurse Kennedy's voice was agonized. "You mean you've been practicing up here for 35 years without a license?"

Dr. Luke's embarrassment and misery were evident. "Well," he recounted, "I passed the exams—but it cost $20 for the license, and at that time—I meant to get it later, but it always slipped my mind—I remember once back just after the war it was, I was going to see about it, but—the doctor paused helplessly.

Then he turned with a faint smile to Nurse Kennedy. "You win!" he said. "Will you help me pack?"

By boat time the doctor was ready. It was so pitifully simple, winding up thus a 35-year career. The books to Nurse Kennedy, Toby to Mike Scanlan, just now learning to walk again. Furniture, horse, auto and sleigh to be sold and the money sent him. Files to be destroyed. So simple. A few hours' work, and all that was tangible of 35 years' of living and working stood on the floor before the doctor, packed in one battered bag and an old telescope.

Constable Jim and Nurse Kennedy came to see him off. Together the three went solemnly to the boat landing. None spoke much. Everything they thought of to say seemed so useless.

It seemed a long time before they stood together at the gang-plank. There were fewer people about than usual, for the night sailing.

"Goodby, Jim," said the doctor simply, extending his hand.

"Goodby, Doc," replied Jim, shaking it solemnly.

"Goodby, Katherine dear," said Dr. Luke slowly, measuring his words.

"Goodby—John." Between nurse and doctor there passed one look of complete understanding. The doctor walked slowly, heavily, up the gangplank, weighted down by more than the bulk of luggage he carried.

Half-way up, he stopped abruptly. Before the others, he heard a faint call of "Doc! . . . Doc!" He turned, and the eyes of the others followed his gaze.

Around the corner of the street came, with his peculiar lopsided Asa Wyatt, breathless and flushed. "Doc!" he called. "Can you come right away? Mama wants you!"

"No, she doesn't!" cut in Nurse Kennedy angrily. "She wants that new doctor—"

"But, Asa," protested the doctor, coming back down the gangplank to meet him. "The baby isn't due for two months yet!"

"Please, Doc!" panted Asa. "Mama's callin' for you. She seems awful bad! She don't want no other doctor!"

"Don't forget, Doc," put in the constable anxiously. "You ain't thinkin' of practicin' again—without a license, are you?"

"License!" The doctor towered to full height in a fury. "Are you going to start that nonsense again? Go call the Mounted Police if you want to! I'm sick of all this yammering about a license! This man's wife is sick, and she wants me. I'm going to go, and I'm going to stay as long as she needs attention!"

"Come on, Asa!"

Actress Returns From Party, Learns of Father's Death

No, King Winter Hasn't Abdicated; Here's Proof!

Maybe the backbone of that "old-fashioned" winter is bent, if not snapped, in most parts of the country, but it wasn't even dented near Hartford, S. While mail sacks for warmth and food from the baggage car were provided for women and children passing, section hands and relief locomotives succeeded finally in returning the train to its starting point, Sioux Falls, S. A LIGHT SMOKE OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO

All kinds of people choose Luckies, each for reasons of his own. But everyone agrees that Luckies are A Light Smoke of rich, ripe-bodied tobacco. It is a rather surprising fact that the leaves of the same tobacco plant may vary far more than the leaves from plants of quite different types. Chemical analysis shows that the top leaves contain excess alkalies which tend to give a harsh, alkaline taste. The bottom leaves tend to acidity in the smoke. It is only the center leaves which approach in nature the most palatable, acid-alkaline balance. In Lucky Strike Cigarettes, the center leaves are used.

Luckies are less acid

Recent chemical tests show* that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.

ECONOMY FOLLY OF NEW DEAL IS BEING STRESSED

Col. Breckenridge in Attack on Roosevelt Policies

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—A primary skirmish in which Roosevelt forces drew first blood from their Talmadge foes today shared interest with a sharpening politico-economic debate.

Administration leaders were de-lighted over the results of the nation's first presidential primary test, held in Seminole county, Ga. Incomplete returns showed voters calling, by a margin of more than 3 to 1, for the renomination of Roosevelt over Talmadge.

Marion Allen, Roosevelt manager in Georgia, expressed "appreciation to the loyal Democrats."

Talmadge declared "I doubt if the Talmadge folks had much chance to get out and vote."

Continued Unemployment

As for the economic argument, critics of the New Deal were pointing with increasing frequency to continuing large scale unemployment. Col. Henry Breckenridge, an anti-administration Democrat, said in a Baltimore speech yesterday that New Deal "economy folly" probably is responsible "for a third and perhaps a half of existing unemployment."

On the other hand, administration leaders were stressing difference in business conditions now and in 1933. Senator Robinson (D-Ark.), debating with Senator Dickson (R-Ia) on the senate floor yesterday, asked if the Iowa senator preferred the "prosperity" of March 4, 1933, to present conditions.

Dickinson had declared "the entire nation is indignant and disillusioned," and that 15 billion dollars had been "squandered in three years of waste and reckless extravagance."

Robinson said that if the country preferred conditions in the days of the Hoover administration to those of today, it meant "the re-election of Hoover," and not some other Republican.

Swing From Roosevelt

Other political developments included a statement by Harrison E. Spangler, Republican committee-man from Iowa, saying "Jeffersonian Democrats are swinging away from the Roosevelt regime."

Spangler, who conferred with organizers here yesterday, said he had made a detailed survey.

The movement for Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas, for the Republican nomination, reached another climax in his home state, when the party convention there pledged its 18 delegates to him "until he is nominated or until he releases them."

Senator Borah (R-Ida) has given evidence of broadening his primary campaign. His friends expected him to enter the Nebraska primary today, the last date for filing there. In that state a delegation friendly to Landon is entered. Borah has filed in Illinois and Ohio. A Borah delegation in the Wisconsin primary is not expected to have any opposition, as the filing closes there today also.

The Idahoan's petitions are being circulated in 10 Pennsylvania counties, as is required of candidates, and he also is in touch with California supporters.

The name of President Roosevelt, unopposed, was placed last night in the Nebraska primary.

Political observers watching the candidacy of Col. Frank Knox for the Republican presidential nomination were intrigued by a meeting between him and former President Hoover. Hoover stopped off at Wickenburg, Ariz., and immediately went to see Knox at a ranch. Hoover is on his way to Colorado Springs to speak Saturday.

Milestones of American Genius

Memorial to the discoverer of North Pole erected at Arlington Cemetery, Washington, D. C.

ROBERT EDWIN PEARY

In a generation when commercial and political success were the goals of most men, Robert Edwin Peary devoted himself to the hazardous life of extending man's knowledge of the world in which he lives. His discovery of the North Pole marked the apex of his career of exploration. It was touched, unfortunately, by bitterness because of the alleged earlier discovery of the Pole by Dr. Cook.

Peary was born on May 6, 1856, at Cresson, Pa., but spent most of his youth near Portland, Maine. Even as a boy he showed the persistence in reaching the top which ultimately, after twenty-five years of hardship, brought him literally to the top of the world.

He was educated at the local public schools and at Bowdoin College, where he took an engineering course. After graduation he entered the Navy, joining the corps of civil engineers. It was while serving in this corps that he came across an article describing the inland ice of Greenland. He developed the theory that this ice cap might make an accessible route to the North Pole. Finally, in 1886, he persuaded Navy officials to grant him a leave of absence to explore the region. From that time on, until he achieved his goal, he had but one purpose—to conquer the Arctic wastes and arrive at the Pole.

Six trips were made with rigorous hardships and deep discouragement. Between trips he faced the even more difficult task of raising money for continuing the explorations, and securing government permission to leave with another expedition.

The seventh attempt was begun in July, 1908, and was successfully completed on April 6, 1909. Peary returned from the Pole to find that Dr. Cook had just announced his own supposed discovery of the Pole before Peary. It was a bitter blow. But before Peary's death, Dr. Cook's claims were proved without foundation, and to Peary went the well-deserved honor of having been the first man to reach the top of our globe. In recognition, he was made a Rear-Admiral.

At his death in February, 1920, Peary was buried in Arlington National Cemetery. The distinctive memorial shown above was erected on his grave. Another memorial has been projected at his birthplace. In the thrilling story of American exploration, his name is forever engraved.

DAILY HEALTH

COLONIC IRRIGATION

The council on physical therapy of the American Medical association authorized publication of an article saying:

Colonic irrigation is a method of treatment "outrageously exploited not only by the out and out charlatan, but by the ignorant but nearly honest layman.... These individuals exploit the public by playing on its belief in the great value of 'elimination,' of 'removal of toxins' and of a 'clean alimentary tract.'"

Expert medical opinions are divided on the basic value of colonic irrigation, but all agree on a few fundamental points. Antiseptic solutions are of no value in colonic irrigation. Ordinary tap water or salt water in what is called a physiologic solution at body temperature is preferred.

Elaborate equipment belongs to the "racket" phase of the treatment. Simple devices reduce the hazards. Colonic irrigations are not without the possibility of untoward results. They may produce nausea, with a feeling of pressure in the "pit of the stomach," undue abdominal distention or cramps.

The oft-repeated or routine administration of colonic irrigation is strongly disapproved. In one large hospital, with 300 physicians in attendance and a service for colonic irrigation freely available to all patients, such treatment was ordered for only 4 out of every 500 patients.

The most enthusiastic medical partisans claim colonic irrigations properly administered may prove beneficial in certain disturbances in the lower bowel, and in certain types of rheumatism, neuritis and secondary anemia. But many physicians consider colonic irrigation a "glorified but not always harmless enema."

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

POLO'S TWO BANDS.

Polo.—Where, at the last meeting of the city council the subject of hiring a band for the summer concert season was merely mentioned, considerable time was devoted to the proposition Monday evening.

The decision is one which seems to require careful handling and a concise explanation is here given. Polo always has had a city band. Gradually a band made up of school children won popular favor in the eyes of the taxpayers and for the last few years the concerts have been given by this group under the direction of T. A. Kiburz.

Resentment on the part of some of the players in the old band caused at various times some disagreeable situations. Hard feelings and some discord sprung up. Last fall the high school board saw reasons for making a change and they hired Orville Westgore to take the place of the former leader, Kiburz. Upon hearing of this someone immediately started a petition circulating and a great many citizens signed their names and included their children's. There was an exciting parade up and down the main street and many people, more or less familiar with bare facts, seemed outraged. There was much talk at the time concerning the advisability of hiring an out-of-town band leader because the money he would earn here would in all probability be spent elsewhere. All this was in protest against the decision of the school board. Plans went on, however, undisturbed by the racket.

Recently, a split in the opinion regarding the situation became manifest between the city fathers. They were agreed upon spending the allotted tax money for the hiring of a band of 25 or 30 pieces—they also wished to donate a concert in the fall to the Woman's club's festival. And a good band it had to be—not half a band.

With a share of the better musicians holding out for Mr. Kiburz and another share standing for Mr. Westgore, and still another wanting to play two ways, what chance is there of even expecting to have a good band in a town of less than 2,000 people? But the simple sounding question upon which no decision could be reached was whether to hire the school band or the city band as Mr. Kiburz calls his faction.

Both organizations had their representatives on hand Monday night at Mayor Hackett's request. Their feelings upon the matter under discussion became vital as the meeting progressed and accusations and implications with no uncertain meanings were bandied back and forth. Such expressions were used, "under-handed methods," "unquestionable qualifications," etc. One gentleman fairly springing from his seat shouted to another, "I demand that you take that statement back!"

Finally someone said "let the people themselves decide what they want. Call out both units on a certain date and let them demon-

SPRINGFIELD OPENS TITLE FIGHT TODAY

State Champs To De- fend Crown Won In 1935

Chicago, March 5.—(AP)—Springfield will make its first gesture in defense of the Illinois high school basketball championship tonight in its own regional tournament, with Williams as the opposition.

The Solons, mostly juniors, figure to win and probably will battle through to the sectionals next week.

Last night's firing produced at least one upset as the regionals got underway. Hebron, ranked as one of the weaker teams and forced to play through district competition, gave the fans at Woodstock regional a shock by eliminating Dundee, 26 to 16. Dundee was the choice to go through its bracket to the final.

Fulton Wins 61-8.

The high scoring effort of the night was turned in by Carthage. Playing in its own regional, the

The Quincy regional also presented a pair of high scoring affairs. Quincy whipped Camp Point, 57 to 10, and Clayton eliminated Timewell, 51 to 24. Carmi rolled up a 57 to 13 decision over Norris City at Mt. Carmel, and Beardstown, operating before a home crowd, defeated Browning, 52 to 12.

Opening warfare accounted for the chances of 103 teams, all 62 regionals will see action tonight to whittle the field down to the semi-finals.

DRAW FOR FINALS

Chicago, March 5.—(AP)—Finals in the state high school basketball tournament, C. W. Whitten, manager of the Illinois High School Athletic Association, said today, will start March 19 at the University of Illinois.

"Blind" drawings were made. Whitten said, with no attempt to put natural rivals against each other. Assignments to the 16 sectional tournaments, he added, will be made after Friday's round in the current regional tournaments.

First round schedule of the final tournament:

Morning:
Freeport winner vs. Mattoon winner.
Lincoln winner vs. Joliet winner.
Afternoon:
East St. Louis winner vs. Champaign winner.
Moline winner vs. DeKalb winner.
Johnston City winner vs. Libertyville winner.
Night:

Carnera Viewing Chance For Fresh Heavyweight Glory

New York, March 5.—(AP)—Primo Carnera, the former heavyweight champion, may get a chance to step back into the picture as a title contender after his ten-round bout with Isidoro Gastanaga of Cuba tomorrow or he may get the air before the bout takes place.

That all depends upon what the New York state athletic commission decides about a rumor concerning the relations between Carnera's manager, Louis Soresi, and D. J. Rizzi, Gastanaga's new pilot. The rumor, which cropped up yesterday was that Rizzi used to work for Soresi until a few weeks ago. The commissioners decided to investigate and promised to call the fight off if the report is found to be true.

Meanwhile Gastanaga's former manager, Solly King, has begun proceedings to attach Izzy's share of the purse on the grounds that his contract doesn't expire until 1938.

Operation on Bill Terry's Knee is Not Necessary Says Doc

Memphis, Tenn., March 5.—(AP)—Bill Terry, nappy over a bone specialist's decision that an operation is not needed to correct an old knee injury, will leave Memphis tonight to rejoin his mates at their Pensacola, Fla., training camp.

Dr. J. S. Speed told the Giants' manager that rest and heat treatments probably would bring the knee into shape. Terry said he would not put on a uniform for two weeks.

The University of Kentucky has a "How to Study" class.

STERLING AGAIN BLOCKS DIXON'S WAY

Above is the fast-stepping Sterling Township high school squad in the first two games represents a serious danger in the path of Dixon high toward the regional title. The two old rivals will meet in the tournament semi-finals tomorrow night at 7:45 on the Coliseum floor and a rousing old-time battle is expected.

Dixon Buries Morrison 42-8 in Tourney Opener Sterling Wins 30 to 12

Favorites Show Typical Form Wednesday

Dixon high school opened its quest for the regional basketball championship Wednesday night by romping to a 42 to 8 victory over Morrison's hapless quint in the second game of the first round at the Sterling Coliseum. Sterling easily won the first game with Prophetstown 30 to 12.

Dixon and Sterling will now meet Friday night at 7:45 P. M. Tonight Amboy plays Erie and Rock Falls meets Tampico to end the first round.

From the very beginning Morrison didn't have a chance against the North Central conference champions. Although the Rock Valley league team had many chances to score by way of the free lane the Orangemen seemed totally unable to convert any of these opportunities into scores. Led by Klein, Rebeck and Evans, the Purple and White rang up a 7-0 lead in the first quarter and, continuing through the second period, ended the half ahead 21 to 1. Morrison's only point of the first half was finally made by Bradley, Orange guard, who was fouled by Rebeck. Previously Morrison had missed four gift chances.

Morrison Gets First Goal
At the opening of the third quarter Morrison slipped in its first field goal of the contest, when Papkins, elongated Orange center who had evidently been given orders to shoot plenty, tried out his theory by dropping in a long, arching shot from the side. Klein came right back with a sneaker under the hoop for Dixon however, and added another before Papkins counted another Morrison field goal. These were the Whiteside county team's only baskets. They also missed twelve out of sixteen free shots.

For Dixon, Art Klein was high point man counting twelve points on four baskets and sinking all four of his free shots. Mary Rebeck's ten points ran a close second, Mary failing to get his free throws converted, but sinking five baskets. Evans took six points and Krug eight. Dick Durkes played his usual dependable game at guard and left the shooting burden on the shoulders of the other four siege guns.

STERLING WINS EASILY
Sterling Township high's Blue and Gold cagers toyed with Prophetstown in the opening tournament game 30 to 12.

The Prophets, runners-up in the Walnut district meet seemed unable to connect with even the easiest shots at the hoop. In the first quarter the score was 8 to 1 in Sterling's favor, and 23 to 2 at half time. In the third frame Sterling grew careless and Prophetstown outscored Township's quint 8 to 3.

COFFMAN MAY BE VALUABLE GIANTS' STAR

Crosetti May Get a Yank Contract in Near Future

(By The Associated Press)
Pensacola, Fla.—Dick Coffman, the American League Castoff, may prove a valuable addition to the Giants' pitching staff. When Bill Terry signed him up he admitted it was merely that he was willing to take a chance but this spring Coffman has been working hard, is in fine condition and has shown enough that the Giants' coaches believe he will stick.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Frank Crosetti, one of the Yankees' dollar a year men, probably will be offered a regular contract before he has spent much time in camp. In his first drill Crosetti stepped around a lively pace and gave every indication that he had fully recovered from the leg injury that put him out of action last season.

Clearwater, Fla.—Casey Stengel hasn't had much trouble getting his pitchers into condition but he is expected to have some heavy thinking to do when the infielders report today. Advance information is that Vince Sherlock may give Jimmy Jordan some real competition for the second base job and Ben Geraghty may be a serious rival for Lonnie Frey at short.

Avalon, Calif.—With Walter Stephenson showing exceptional improvement, Manager Charley Grimm of the Cubs is almost gloating over his catching staff. Gabby Hartnett, the National League's most valuable player last year, heads the list with Ken O'Dea and Stephenson, whose temper almost cost him his job last season, fighting for the other job.

Pasadena, Calif.—If and when Zeke Bonura, the holdout White Sox first baseman, comes to terms he is likely to have plenty of competition for his job. Mule Haas and Rip Radcliff, outfielders, and Manager Jimmy Dykes have been drilling at the position and all have shown they can handle it if necessary.

San Antonio, Tex.—Although the Wabers are not present, the Pirates has a brother act in camp. Big Jim Weaver, the pitcher, brought his 20-year-old brother Myron up from Fulton, Ky., for a tryout. Myron has been doing some good sand lot hurling.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Wally Berger, the Bees' leading holdout wired he would be on hand Friday but President Bob Quinn issued an ultimatum he was not to get a uniform until he signed the contract originally offered. "I still insist he is the highest paid outfielder in the league and he is being given a fair deal," Quinn said.

Sarasota, Fla.—Joe Cronin of the Red Sox is sold on Eric McNair as a second baseman. "When he gets making the count 26 to 10. In the fourth period the Whiteside county team woke up and breezed through to an easy finish.

For Sterling, Sangrey with ten points was high point man while Prophetstown's best efforts were Semister's four points.

Referee: Serling, Oak Park.
Umpire: Temple, Moline.

a little practice in combination plays he is bound to be every bit as sensational there as he was at short for the Athletics," said Cronin after yesterday's drill.

New Orleans—With the arrival of Willis Hudlin, due today, the Indians' squad will be complete. Although 11 days behind the other Cleveland pitchers in reporting, Hudlin is expected to reach his form rapidly. He has been getting into shape at Hot Springs, Ark.

Orlando, Fla.—There's a tinge of tragedy in the Senators' camp when Ossie Bluege coaches John Lewis at playing third base. After 10 years of fine playing, Ossie realizes he has begun to slip at bat and base running but he still praises Lewis and spends his time showing the youngster the tricks of the position.

Lakeland, Fla.—"Casey at the bat" seems to be potent inspiration for Al Simmons and Elden Auker of the Tigers. They tried reciting parts of the poem en route to the plate yesterday. Al got a homer, double and single in four times up and Auker walked two homers on successive trips to the plate.

Miami, Fla.—Dizzy Dean and his unexpected arrival at Bradenton were the Cardinals main topic of conversation as they bussed over to take the boat for Cuba tonight. Most of the Cards seemed to think "Old Diz" had begun to weaken on his $40,000 demand but President Sam Breadon merely said he had "others matters on his mind."

West Palm Beach, Fla.—Big Ed Coleman is rapidly developing into the Browns' leading fence buster. Six pitchers couldn't keep him from bombarding the right field fence in yesterday's batting practice and his drives beat all previous efforts for distance.

Fort Myers, Fla.—Russell Peters, sought by the Athletics from Albany of the international League during the winter, has the eyes of the baseball wise hereabouts. In an inter-camp game yesterday, Peters accepted eight chances at short without an error.

Winter Haven, Fla.—Jimmy Wilson has promised the Phillies some batting practice Friday, the first of the training camp season. The first intra-squad game will be played Sunday.

WOOD CLAIMS LEADERSHIP IN LITTLE 19

Chicago, March 5.—(AP)—Carroll Wood, Western State Teacher forward, today claimed 181 points for leadership in the Illinois inter-collegiate conference individual scoring race. Wood's closest competitor was Ken Wilson, McKendree, who has counted 119 points. Wood, although he has the 1936 scoring title clinched, is conceded little chance to equal the 216 point record set by Louis Lasiter, Illinois College, in 1934.

MEN!

DON'T MISS THIS CHANCE TO WIN

$12,000

IN CASH PRIZES

Do you like a good cigar? Then step up to the nearest cigar counter and enjoy the one that pleases more smokers than any other cigar in America. Yes, we mean Bayuk PHILLIES. And do it now! Because there's a big prize contest open to smokers.

Some smoker who has tried PHILLIES is going to win $2,500. It might as well be you. And there are 82 other big cash prizes. The smallest of them is a check for $50.

This time the women and youngsters are out! This is a contest for men only. And if there was ever a simpler, easier contest we've never heard about it.

HERE'S WHAT TO DO

1. Write us—in not more than 100 words—why you like the Bayuk PHILLIES Cigar. (Your dealer will assist you in preparing your entry and give you all necessary information.)
2. Send us three PHILLIES Cigar bands—or three pencil drawings of the band.
3. Give name and address of dealer from whom you bought the cigars.
4. Mail your entry to Contest Editor, Bayuk Cigars Inc., Philadelphia, Pa.
5. Prizes will be awarded for what you say—not how you say it.

HERE ARE THE PRIZES FOR SMOKERS

FIRST PRIZE . . . $2,500.00
SECOND PRIZE . . . $1,000.00
THIRD PRIZE . . . $500.00
80 PRIZES OF . $50.00 EACH

In case of ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded.

Maybe you "don't go in for contests." Well, here's one that's different. It takes no particular skill. Every man has an equal start. The college professor has no better chance than the man who works with his hands. Just tell us in plain, every-day words why you like PHILLIES. The prize-winning entries will not necessarily be the cleverest or written in the best English. It's what you say—not how you say it—that will count.

Don't miss a chance at the easiest $2,500 a man ever received! Drop in any store where they sell cigars. Enjoy PHILLIES today! When you have saved three bands, send us that prize-winning letter, enclosing the three bands or three drawings of the bands.

DEALERS' CASH PRIZES

FIRST PRIZE . . . $1,250.00
SECOND PRIZE . . . $500.00
THIRD PRIZE . . . $250.00
80 PRIZES OF $25.00 EACH

MR. CIGAR DEALER: Can you use one of these big cash prizes for dealers? Want to increase your chances of winning one? Ask the salesman who supplies you with PHILLIES how you can do it.

There's another prize you can't help winning. And that is a lot of new steady customers for America's largest-selling cigar.

OPEN MEETINGS TO OUTLINE NEW FARM PROGRAMS

Three-Day Sessions in Chicago and Memphis
Begin Today

Chicago, March 5.—(AP)—The removal from production of approximately 30,000,000 acres of soil depleting crops and an increase of that amount in soil building crops was disclosed today by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace as the 1936 goal of the administration's soil conservation program.

A broad outline of the program was submitted by the secretary in a statement read simultaneously before regional conferences of agricultural leaders here and at Memphis, Tenn.

The removal, Wallace said, would reduce the soil depleting acreage from a yearly average of 300,000,000 acres to 270,000,000 acres in 1936. This he said, would be ample to average yields to provide the nation a supply of food and fiber equal to domestic consumption in the 1920-1929 period.

About AAA Ratio.

Farm leaders here said the 270,000,000 acres left in the production of major crops would be approximately the same amount farmed last year under the AAA crop reduction program. Similarly, the 30,000,000 acres to be devoted to legumes and similar crops approximates the number of acres retired last year.

A classification of crops into two divisions—soil building and soil exhausting—has been worked out and will be submitted to the two meetings, said Wallace.

A two point system of conservation payments has been proposed, the secretary said.

First, a moderate payment would be made for each acre, up to a maximum, planted to soil conserving crops.

Second, a larger soil improvement payment per acre would be made for each acre shifted from soil depleting crops to soil conserving crops, with the provision that this payment be made only up to a specified percentage.

In Variable Amounts.

The actual amounts which would be paid farmers per acre would vary from region to region and from farm to farm, according to the productivity of the soil, said Wallace. In the south it would vary according to the soil depleting crop from which diversion was made to a soil-conserving crop.

Farmers renting for cash would receive the entire payment. In the case of farms occupied by share tenants or share croppers, the proposal was for the division of payments between landlords and those actually occupying the land.

The "definite top" available for the conservation program this year, said Wallace, is $470,000,000.

If soil payments are made at the rate of 75 cents to $1 an acre, these payments would total from 75 to 100,000 million dollars," the secretary explained.

Minimum Standards.

"Allowance has to be made for administrative expenses in Washington and in the field. On this basis, there would be left for distribution as soil improvement payments somewhere in the neighborhood of 350 million dollars."

This sum, divided among the 30,000,000 acres to be shifted to less profitable crops, would mean a national average of between $11 and $12 an acre, the farmers estimated.

The plan, Wallace said, proposed that a standard minimum performance be set up to make sure that each farmer participating carries out genuine soil conservation operations on his farm.

The program in the field would be administered by committees built around county associations of farmers. In counties which had only one committee under the AAA, this committee would continue to function. In other counties, a new committee would be set up to represent a combination of former AAA committees, to serve pending permanent organization in the field.

Flexible Program

The entire program, Wallace emphasized, will be made as flexible as possible to conform with needs of the individual farmers.

"The 1936 plan, it is expected, will provide for regional differences in the kind and number of acres to be diverted. This differentiation, the proposed payments on acreages already devoted to soil conserving or soil building crops, and the fact that farmers will have a rather wide range within which to adjust their farming plan will combine to offer a flexible program."

Wallace's statement was read by M. L. Wilson, assistant secretary of agriculture. At Memphis it was read by H. R. Tolly, consultant of the agricultural adjustment administration.

The farm leaders at Chicago were asked to appoint six or seven steering committees to work on problems suggested by Wallace's statement.

With Wilson here were three officials of the AAA—W. F. Callender, assistant administrator; Gerald W. Thorne, director of the livestock division, and George Farrell, director of the grain division.

Others in attendance included Miss Mary Taylor, representing the Consumers Council; L. J. Tabor, Master of the National Grange; E. Swing, Decatur, Ill., president of the National Livestock Marketing Association; Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association; C. E. Huff, president of the Farmers National Grain Corporation; Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; and E. A. Eckert, Mascoutah, Ill., secretary of the executive committee of the National Grange.

Adopted AAA Acreage

Approximately the same acreage of the major crops will be retired as the AAA specifications for 1936 called for, the retired land to be sown to such soil-building crops as alfalfa, sweet, red or mammoth clover, Alsike, lespedeza, blue grass, and soy beans for hay, but not for seed.

The farmer will choose which crops he will put into the retired acres, co-operation being entirely voluntary. No contract will be made. Proof of co-operation with the plan, on the word of a township committee, will entitle the farmer to rewards.

Benefit checks will be substantially less than those prevailing under AAA. The figure for retiring land of high fertility may be $7 to $10 an acre.

May Pay Flat Rate

The checks probably will be paid at the end of the growing season. A flat rate will be paid, not varying among crops.

Midwestern state farm bureau presidents, corn-hog program leaders, and farm magazine editors had been invited.

Informal sources said problems remaining to be worked out included these:

How to apply the plan in dairy states, like Wisconsin, where a high percentage of the land already is in grass and legumes.

How to divide the benefits between landlords and tenants.

"HONEST" VOTE BILLS BEATEN IN THE SENATE

Kelly-Nash Organization
Blamed for Loss of Bitter Fight

Springfield, Ill., March 5.—(AP)—Governor Horner and his followers today blamed the Kelly-Nash Democratic organization for the defeat of permanent registration. In the drive for quick adjournment of the third special session, administration men had little hope at this time of passing any bills dealing with the elimination of alleged frauds in Chicago elections.

Outnumbered 22 to 23, the Horner Democrats and Republicans saw the Schnackenberg permanent registration bills declared dead in the Senate yesterday afternoon after several hours of debate about "honest elections." Four more votes would have passed them.

Governor Horner, campaigning at Carmi, took the opportunity for an attack upon his chief political enemy, Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago. The governor charged that the Kelly-Nash organization controlled the opposition votes and said:

"The sole issue in this legislation was the right of the people to have honest elections. By defeating our efforts to protect that right, Kelly has served notice on * * * the entire state that as between corrupt elections and free suffrage his allegiance remains with the former."

Calls Donovan "Unjust."

Senator Louis O. Williams of Clinton, who couldn't get more than nine Democrats to vote against the Chicagoans, declared Lieut. Gov. Thomas F. Donovan was "unjust and arbitrary" in not permitting the roll call to be suspended, which is the usual procedure when sponsors of important bills want another chance to pass them.

Donovan said he announced the 22 to 23 vote, which killed the bill under consideration, because it was apparent that permanent registration could not be passed this week, with sine die adjournment planned for Friday.

The governor's statement said Donovan was "undoubtedly under the pressure or intimidation of Boss Kelly."

It was regarded as possible that the administration, seeking primary votes on the election issue, might make some later attempt at enacting ballot reform proposals.

Will Carry On.

"The battle to reduce fraudulent voting will be carried on," declared Mrs. Frank P. Hixon, president of the Illinois League of Women Voters. "A permanent registration system must be adopted sooner or later."

Negative votes were cast by only two Republicans, Daniel A. Serritella and James B. Leonardo of Chicago, who said many illiterate voters in their districts cannot sign their names.

The Democrats split. T. V. Smith of Chicago and Williams had the support of only seven of their downstate colleagues—Clifford of Champaign, Fribley of Pana, Hickman of Paris, Karraker of Jonesboro, Krebs of Prairie du Rocher, Mayor of LaHarpe and Siebens of Gridley.

Among other downstate Democrats, Stuttle of Litchfield was silent. Behrman of Peoria voted present, Shaw of Lawrenceville and Mundy of Marshall were absent and opposing votes were cast by eight—Burgess of Fairfield, Finn of Juka, Harper of East Moline, Lohmann of Pekin, Menzes of East St. Louis, Monroe of Collinsville, O'Connell of Morris and Penick of Quincy.

Finn declared he had always opposed permanent registration. Harper said Republicans were seeking a local issue in his district.

A WORD IN PASSING

I came by chance along your way
And greatly did you bless me.
A stranger I, you took me in—
My painful wounds were soothed
By thee.

I came within your doors and sat,
Thirsty and hungering too
For the bread that feeds the soul,
Blessed now are you.

A stranger I, you took me in
And poured oil in my wounds.
You warmed my heart, fed me too
With grace that knows no bounds.

"Blessed art thou of my Father,"
I can almost hear His words.
Compassion you had for another,
"Receive the joy that is thy Lords."

Be not weary in well doing,
Surely thy reward is great.
Give to every one that cometh
Words that Jesus did relate.

Blessed Jesus, wondrous spirit,
Floods and heals our lives with love.
Can we cast our burdens on Him,
And wait for Him who is above?

Here and There In Sports World

By EDDIE BRIETZ

Associated Press Sports Writer

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 5.

(AP)—There is a small revolt brewing among the hundreds of ball players in Florida. . . . Some of them don't like the idea of the umpires getting $300 plus expenses for working the spring games. . . . The Athletics, you know, don't get a dime from the time they report until April 14. . . . Something may be done about it next spring. . . . The players are talking about going to Judge Landis. . . . Incidentally, the judge is getting well fast at Belair, near here.

Grapefruit league notes: Dizzy Dean's house at Bradenton is up for sale. . . . Just as the Cards left Bradenton for Havana, Sam Norton, rookie catcher, came up with an attack of appendicitis. . . . Had to be rushed to a hospital. . . . What Sam hated most about it was missing the trip. . . . Frankie Frisch has put Pepper Martin in charge of the sliding pits at Bradenton. . . . The Prof. can hit the dirt from all angles. . . . The Cards are counting on Coach Mike Gonzales to tell them how to order ham and eggs from the Havana menus.

Odds and ends: Jacksonville wants a big league club to train there next year. . . . Lots of folks thought Petey Sarron of Birmingham gave Freddie Miller a licking at Miami the other night. . . . Patty Berg has started speaking to knife and fork clubs. . . . The Wilmington (N. C.) Star says Nathan Andrez, former U. of North Carolina pitching ace, has left to join the Cardinals at Bartow, Fla. . . . we hope he finds the club.

BROOKS OPENED HIS DOWNSTATE CAMPAIGN TODAY

Ottawa, Ill., March 5.—(AP)—Calling for co-operation of farm and industrial Illinois behind a Republican candidate for governor, C. Wayland Brooks, Chicago attorney and Le Salle county farmer, opened his downstate campaign today for the party nomination with an enunciation of a statewide program.

Brooks dealt chiefly with the problem of agriculture, discussing more generally conservation, labor, relief, business and industry and taxation.

Endorsing former Gov. Frank O. Lowden's formula for farm legislation, Brooks asserted agricultural aid should not be administered politically, but through state agricultural colleges. The fertility of the soil must be conserved, he said, by removing unproductive acreage and planting legumes.

"Until there can be an equalization of demand to production," Brooks said, "it is necessary to adjust acreage to needs." To help this, he advocated a protective tariff on meats, oils, fats and "other products of foreign farms," including a 10 or 12 cent a gallon import tax on black strap molasses.

He asked for the encouragement of owner-operation of farms, and said he supported voluntary farm co-operatives.

Brooks asserted his belief in labor's rights to collective bargaining; attacked centralized relief administration; and said he would work for what he called a "normal tax program within four years" including the ultimate abolition of the sales tax.

WEST BROOKLYN

BY HENRY GEHANT

West Brooklyn—Ray Vincent, who is attending Scoville business college at Sterling, visited on Saturday and Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amel Vincent.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bonnell and family of Amboy moved on Monday to the farm west of town recently purchased by Joseph Kuehna.

Farewell Party

The students of the high school and their teachers, Mr. Grever and Mr. McMinn held a farewell party at the high school on Friday evening for one of the pupils, Miss Mildred Ansteth who with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ansteth, has moved to the vicinity of Compton. The evening was spent in playing bunco and various games. At the close of the evening a delicious scramble lunch was served.

Paul Miester of Rochelle visited at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Schulthies on Wednesday.

Harold Michel and friend, Jas. Porter of Grand Mound, Iowa, spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Michel. Ray Michel also accompanied them home after spending a week at Grand Mound.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bernardin of Steward visited with relatives here on Friday.

Miss Maud Vincent is spending a week at the home of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bonnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Graf of Lee Center visited at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Graf on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Derr visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Elliott of Amboy on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. John Vickery and children of Freeport visited for several days of the past week at the Seymour Vickery home.

Miss Ruth Schnuckle spent Saturday visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brucker.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McKnight and family moved on Saturday from a farm north of here to Monroe Center.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fassig, Miss Dorothy Fassig and Ray Johnson spent Saturday afternoon with relatives at Mendota.

Ed Bresson who has been a patient at the Compton hospital for the past week following a tonsil operation is now at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Bresson.

Charles Stout and Wm. Stalnbrook of Compton called on business friends here Monday.

WINTER'S PERILOUS PRANK

Here's a nice little puzzle for the naturalist—why should the Monongahela River (in foreground) be free of ice while the Allegheny River was jammed with an ice gorge? The paradox of the situation is pictured from the air at the junction of the streams at Pittsburgh. The Allegheny's ice threatened to cause one of the worst floods in a decade.

CRUISE TO NOWHERE

Deck Morgan
© 1936 NEA Studio, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JANE WESTON feels her dreams have come true when she sits out on a three weeks' ocean cruise, accepted in payment for the salary due her when the magazine for which she worked as typist suspended publication.

On board the ship, she meets handsome DIRK STROM, expert ski jumper, as promissus as herself. The two are much attracted to each other. Then a misadventure, a falling overboard, sends Jane to the frequent escort of DIRK BRESSON, opera singer, and owner of the Kokoiar diamond.

Others among the passengers are MADAME DOREMUS, wealthy and eccentric; DUTCH LENZ and NANCY JACKSON, blacksmiths; BEN MAINTIN and LINDA HAYES, film show entertainers.

Snowshoes persuade Nora Lane to turn the Kokoiar diamond over to the pursuer. They go to her stateroom to get it and find Madam Lennox, dead from a bullet wound. The diamond is missing.

Snowshoes takes charge of the investigation. Most of the passengers are not aware of the murder, though they know of the theft. They are allowed to go ashore when the boat lands at Nassau.

That night, as they are leaving the island, a storm comes up. It grows worse rapidly and snowshoes notices passengers getting their life belts. Madame Doremus announces hysterically that Millie, her companion, is missing.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XX
SOME of the ship's passengers were taking the approaching hurricane calmly, and their behavior quieted the crowd which was pouring into the gameroom, lounge and ballroom on the boat deck, life preservers in their hands.

The first wild panic ceased, as people realized that the real blow had not even begun. The orchestra in the ballroom began to play. Stewards went around talking to the huddled groups, reassuring them. The long wait had commenced.

Card tables were set up like magic until the recreation rooms resembled a bridge tournament in a big city hotel.

But the approach of a hurricane has a curious psychological effect on the people who wait, at sea. One lives with the spectre overhead—that dread hobgoblin which is uncertainty and fear of death in unnatural surroundings. For a strange element ensued. The high winds outside created a vacuum inside the rooms, and people began to notice the tingling of their ear drums.

It was a diabolic torment. The slight pain involved wore down one's nerves. Some nerves snapped, like taut wires. The air became close, and then a little suffocating. Doors banged open and shut. Outside the wind shrieked and howled, and the ship gave herc, lean shudders from bow to stern, like a giant animal emerging from water.

"I bid two spades,"
"Three diamonds,"
"Bye."
"Bye me. What was that?"

A WOMAN coming into the lounge with two small children, shrieked, and went into uncontrollable hysterics.

"Go on. Go on. Bid! Don't pay attention to that. My ear drums are about to burst. Throbbing like a taut drum. Play! I wonder if Ely Culbertson would play a good game tonight?"

"It's silly. There's no real danger now. When the blow comes you'll know it. It's a steady roar whose volume can be detected—like a train coming. You hear it smacking, and you can't run, then it roars, and it isn't so bad after that. You get used to it. It just roars and roars—"

The tension was greater as the hours wore on.

This was Jane's first knowledge of the hurricane. As she went hurriedly from room to room, looking for Dirk, she caught these snatches of acute distress, which remained forever etched in her brain.

Then she saw Dirk. He was assisting a little old lady, who looked about 84, down the stairs into the lounge. The woman was still gowned for dinner, and wore some jewels. She was laughing and gay, but had to depend on her cane.

"My boy, I've crossed the ocean 200 times," she said. "My husband was a mining engineer. I've taken to the boats more than once. One time we were boarded by a Chinese pirate ship off Hong Kong, and I fought with the crew. For my bravery I was awarded a bloody cutlass and a pirate's hand. One of the fingers had a lovely jade ring on it. I had it made into this lovely brooch. See?"

Dirk was laughing. "You give me your arm!" he said. "This is my first storm at sea."

When the little old lady was seated in the lounge, and beaming with intense self-satisfaction on all those around her as if to say, "This is my day!" Jane came to him.

"Oh, hello!" he said, and searched her face for any signs of alarm. When he didn't find any he smiled. "A bit of a blow, as the steward informed me." Then his voice was stern. "Young lady, where is your life belt?"

"Why, I don't know. Where do I find one?"
"In your stateroom, of course. Come on," he said, grabbing her arm. "We'll go get it right now."

JANE'S confusion came to an end with the feel of his strong hand.

"Where—where is yours?" she said, almost breathless in their hurry.

"Oh, I gave mine to a little two-year-old boy. There are not enough to go around, as usual. I suppose people take them away for souvenirs, or use them for fishing tackle. I can swim."

On the way to Deck B they passed a door where a steward was pounding with some force. The door opened suddenly, and Madame Doremus stood inside in her lace negligee.

"I don't want any room service!" she said. "Go on away. I came on this cruise to get some rest, and you've been pounding on my door for the last hour. Where is the fire?" she ended scornfully, and slammed the door.

Dirk knew she couldn't hear very well, and stopped to help the steward, who was on the verge of tears. The boy couldn't get her out. They knocked again, but Madame was expecting it. "Go on away!" she bellowed.

But when she opened the door in a rage, she saw Dirk standing there.

Jane said, "The ship has been stuck."

Business, Mother of Culture!

BY JAMES S. THOMAS
President, Clarkson College of Technology

The Intelligentist! They load our groaning backs with the woes of the world! They deplore our materialistic culture and find us pursuing Mammon to our destruction!

But this materialistic culture, so crude and crass to the intelligentist, has borne the burden of idealistic culture throughout the ages. The idealistic has always traveled upon the back of the materialistic. That savage who first discovered the value of a trinket he did not own and started bartering for it, started civilization. Civilization follows business. It is never the other way around, in spite of what many books say about that. The measure of a nation's culture, its breadth, its depth, its richness, its duration, is determined almost entirely by the ability of the business and commerce of the day to pay the bills and carry on.

But while we were building up this century and a half of magnificent material culture, we were not neglecting our idealistic culture. For during this same period we built and endowed more colleges than all the rest of the world combined, and put more students in those colleges. We built more high schools, and have more children attending them than all of Europe. In 1900 there were 284,683 students in the colleges and universities of the United States. In 1930, there were 1,178,218. That is to say, that while the
